

The Missing Humpty Competition

If you would like to enter the Missing Humpty Competition by entering a script or scripts, then please see the resources4drama website for the full rules, though the basics are as mentioned on the sheet in the pack you have purchased.

All entries have to be received by February 25th each year and the winner will be announced at Easter. To be absolutely clear – no student's work will be put on sale, it is purely a competition.

If you, as a teacher, wish to submit a script which might be suitable for the second edition of the Humpty Files contact me. "Humpty 2" will contain additional genres and successful submissions will be paid for. Please contact me before any submission for further details.

Thanks for your purchase – enjoy the resource – please fill in the feedback sheet to let me know what you think.

Regards
